Club's President's Message for April 2022

I'm ready for some flying!!

Hawk Talk

This winter I installed my first set of snow skis for my RC plane ever; and no snow ... salt to the wound! It's been six long months of crummy cold weather. We got teased a couple times and were able to fly, but Hawk Field's grass was brown and it just doesn't feel right flying with long pants on. Matter of fact; the last two years have kinda been a bummer if you ask me.

So! This year I'd sure like to see as many smiling faces at Hawk Field as possible ... the member's meetings particularly.

It's our members that make the events and meetings FUN! I love seeing ya'll talking shop, laughing, and flying. I vow that this summer's meeting agendas will be quick! We'll have a show and tell segment (so please bring something or a topic to share), then have a quick raffle, and get back to flying and socializing!

The next six meetings scheduled for Hawk Field this season will be worth attending; maybe even a surprise or two!

Can't wait to see you ... the last Friday of every Month!

Luke Hughes

Omahawks Member Meeting March 2022 Minutes

March 25, 2022, 7pm @ OakView Mall

Also: FAA# is required and needs to be placed on each airplane (written or sticker).
Check the Misc. tab on our website for specifics: www.omahawks.org

Hawk Talk

Special safety program was given at 6:30pm by Jim Boomsma. It included techniques to use a tourniquet if bleeding is significant. A snug tourniquet can be left on for well over an hour and until patient is transported to hospital by 911 responders. Always call 911 if accident is life threatening.

Note: an updated and enhanced First Aid Kit is now in the new shed. Code: 9275

Membership Count: 119 for 2022, we are checking into using an auto pay renewal process for next year. This year the FAA# is a requirement to renew. ($5 for 3 years)

Newsletter Report: Send in articles to Joe via new email: HawkTalkEditor@duck.com

Old Business:

Field Improvements:

Parks Department: Luke spoke with Parks Department about improvements... tree removal (done)/replanting, gate, drainage and erosion, additional concrete near picnic pavilion, "Ranch rail" fence replacement. Additional "persuasion" is needed.

Possible residing of old shed with metal, similar to Red Roof Shed.

Club Apparel: Due to slow supply chain deliveries, no order will be placed at this time. Some hats and T-shirts are still available. Call Luke if interested.

EAA80 @ Oakview--

Building/Repair program (Rick, Greg Ruhe, Jim Henley, Ron P.): Building an electric SIG Senior, supplies and tools are available on site. Program to wrap up for the season on 3/31/22.

FAA# required, $5 for 3 yrs, put # on all airplanes. TRUST test is also required, but easy.

Hawk Talk

Website: Check the Alert and calendar for updated events. New Google Calendar feature available that will automatically post updates on your device. (Check with Luke for details.)

New Business:

Eagle Scout project: Cody S. planning another one. Specifics to follow.

Clean-Up Day 3/19: Much was accomplished. Luke reported that the sheds were cleaned out, north end safety fence repaired, leaves raked, trees trimmed, goo removed from shed wall and general clean up done! Thanks to the many workers!

Safety Initiatives: (Jim Boomsma) First Aid Kit in shed.

P-51 Raffle: Larry Lumpkin/CAF approved another P-51 ride! Tickets being made to sell for $25/ticket. Reach out to your friends and family. Prizes for top ticket sellers:

First Place: Fly in Cessna 172 to a lunch destination with Luke!

Second Place: Lunch with VP Grant Schulte, 2023 dues waved.

Third Place: 2023 dues waved and one "atta boy"!

Flying Event Schedule 2022: Combat events, Pylon racing? (see next page)

AMA Magazine article about Omahawks Labor Day Air Show appeared in the April edition as well as an article about our one and only: Joe Cole!

Featured Articles

Blast from the Past

Editor's Note: The next two articles are extracts from Hawk Talk Newsletter in the year 2014 they seem very appropriate in my opinion; both written by then Hawk Talk Editor's Mike Berger

Did you notice something?

Hey, fellow Omahawks! Did you notice anything unusual about this month's newsletter?

Like the fact that it is a little bit short. Excuse me. Really, really short. Like the shortest it has been in months/ years. Yeah, I noticed it too.

You see there's a reason for that. A couple reasons actually. One of the reasons is that I (Mike Berger) work in agriculture and the spring farming season has hit very early and very hard this year, which is keeping me very busy and I don't have a lot of time to arrange material for the newsletter.

I throw it together at the last minute with whatever has been sent to me in the previous month. And that is the second reason. My sources have dried up. I'm not receiving anything from anybody. No articles about upcoming events, exciting happenings in the R/C world, no jokes or funny stories and no pictures, definitely no pictures.

Hawk Talk

This is getting to be kind of troublesome. After all, this is not my newsletter, it is your newsletter.

It needs to be covering the things that you are interested in. Without your input, there really isn't much to report besides the minutes of the meeting (which, to tell the truth, are really pretty boring).

So, I need you to get out there and have fun flying. But while you do that, take some pictures, write me an e-mail, tell me and your fellow Omahawks what you are interested in and who is doing what.

You know, the old, "Who, what, where, when, and why" thing they taught us in school. Let your voice be heard and spread the joy of R/C flying through your newsletter. After all, that's why we publish it.

- Mike Berger, Hawk Talk editor - omahawks@kaptnkarl.com From April 2014 Newsletter Issue!

Spring is finally here!

The days are long and hot and every day is a flying day. There is a lot of fun to be had, but there is also a great potential for grief if we don't put safety first whenever we fly.

Many risks are present whenever you fly an R/C airplane or helicopter. Propeller blades and rotors spin at high speeds and can cause serious injuries. Airplane glow fuel and gasoline have the potential for fire and overheated or damaged electric equipment can cause burns or fires or even explosions. All in all, this hobby can be quite dangerous if the risks are taken too lightly.

Hawk Talk

The agricultural co-op that I (Mike Berger, original author) work for has a safety program that is designed to get every employee focused on safety every minute of every day. I can think of no better plan to have when flying R/C.

By staying focused on safety, we can make sure that spring/summertime is a safe time for everyone involved.

When you go flying, you always make sure to have the supplies you need to fly, such as fuel, batteries, tools etc.

But you should also have a first aid kit (there is one located at the Field) for treating minor injuries. A cell phone is a good thing to keep handy if you need to call 911.

And you should always have a flying buddy to help you if things go completely wrong. A simple cut from a spinning propeller can make it so you can't use a phone or drive yourself to the doctor's office or ER.

Another thing that is good to have handy is a fire extinguisher.

Almost everything used in R/C flying has a potential for fire.

Glow fuel and gasoline are obvious fire risks but even the lithium batteries used in electric planes can overheat or catch on fire.

Last but certainly not least, you should have a plan. You should know what the risks are and think ahead about what you should do if something goes wrong.

- Do you know where the nearest emergency room is?

Editors Note: Well, I couldn't answer the question either so I looked it up!

CHI Health Emergency Department (Immanuel) is located at 6901 N 72nd St, Omaha NE, 68122. Phone: (402) 572-2225

Hawk Talk

- Do you know basic first aid?
- What do you do if someone gets hurt?

Knowing in advance what to do in case of emergency can really help minimize the damage done and possibly save a life.

So be prepared, be forewarned and be careful. If you put safety first, summertime will always be fun flying time.

Future Events

OLD TIMER* FUN FLY & DISPLAY

June 25, 2022 - Saturday - 9am-noon

Omaha - Standing Bear Lake Park – Hawkfield

* For newcomers, Old Timer refers to old time model planes that were designed for free flight (before RC) during the 1930 -1950 period, such as seen below.

Optional climb & glide timing after ~1030: Unlimited engine run to climb, then 4 minute glide to land on runway. Pilot is on his own after 3 minutes. Trophy for best looking Old Timer. (Since 1990s, most SAM RC rules limit engine climb to 18-23 seconds or small amount of fuel)

2022 Omaha Pattern Championship

Hi everyone, I hope you are getting the bug to get out and fly, I know I am. Also, it's never too early to start thinking about this year's contest. For me, I am past the event from last year and finished building a new Acuity. I am waiting for a nice day to take to the air for the maiden flight. It ended up on the Front cover of the February edition of the K-Factor along with a good article about bouncing back. (Click here for the article )

This year the contest date has moved due to the NATs being moved to the first full week in August. The Omahawks contest will be held July 23 -24, 2022. That is two weeks ahead of where we normally hold it. This date may be a good practice run for those attending the NATs so I would hope we would see a good number of pilots.

I submitted the sanction paperwork today to get the ball rolling. I think if we run the contest like we did last year it should go smoothly. We can discuss assignments later of course but what we did last year worked well. I saw Ed and Helen at the Lincoln SkyKnights auction and they asked about the contest. Helen will help again and is always a great help. I assume others will do the same. Ed purchased a plane and plans to fly in the contest this year.

Once the weather takes a turn for the better, I am thinking about trying to get out to the field every Tuesday evening for some practice. Maybe we use this for those wanting to learn more about, provide pattern basics for anyone interested and also some coaching so come July we have a good club turnout and everyone has had a chance to sharpen their skills.

So, pencil in the date "July 23-24th".
