Summer is almost over, so get out there and fly!

FLYING DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN!

It's the middle of summer and I hope this finds everyone well and happily flying away the summer season. We've gotten past the cold wind and rain of spring and into a glorious summer.

There is still lots to do this summer. The schedule is full. You shouldn't have too much trouble finding stuff to do. The pattern contest is coming this week and there are fun flies throughout the month. And right around the corner is the Labor Day Air Show, our club's big hurrah.

And if you're up for a road trip, there is a great fun fly going on in Hastings on the 17th. There is something to do on almost every weekend, and something for almost every kind of flying.

But airplanes aren't the only thing flying. Time is flying by, too. In no time at all the weather will start to cool. The sun will start to set early and autumn will be upon us. Short days, cool nights and all too soon, snow on the ground, winter. And no more flying.

Bummer.
So you'd better not waste any time. Get out there and fly. Get your planes out, get your gear ready and charged up. Call your friends and get out to the field.

Fly.

Get going!

...

Why are you still here?

Go Fly!

Meeting Adjourned.....

A few pointers...

Wake up, Ralph!

A salute to a long-time friend

Ralph Brown's passing last month left a huge hole in all of our hearts. He was often the first person that anyone met when they first found the Omahawks. He was a tireless supporter of the club and all of its events. We will all miss his quick wit, his endless love of flying and his very brief reports in the club meetings.

Ralph was a sucker for a pretty girl.

Ed learned everything he knows about brevity from Ralph.

Always ready to help.

Just a brief report...

Consoling Steve Culver on his loss.

Please enjoy these pictures from the 2013 Omahawks' Sport Pilot Championship - especially the crash photos. I'm sure you'll enjoy them more than their owners will.

THE PRESIDENT'S CHALLENGE

Labor Day is coming and with it, the annual Omahawks' Labor Day Air Show. As you know, each year we hold a raffle to raise money for the Make-a-wish donation. For several years, the prizes for the raffle have been bought with donations from club members.

Unfortunately, this year we are way behind in the donations from club members, so we need your help fast. To help our cause, our president, Bob Wheeler has issued this challenge: He has thrown a measly little twenty dollar bill into the hat to help the cause and he challenges each and every one of you to do the same.

The support of club members in this effort has helped us give all the money raised by selling tickets to Make-a-wish. Your help in meeting Bob's challenge will make that goal even closer.
